

San Joaquin Valley Neurodevelopmental Collaborative

Supporting individuals with neurologic differences,
their families, and their community
through services, education, and research

MISSION:

To support individuals with neurologic differences, their families, and their wide community throughout services, education and research.

VISION:

All individuals, regardless of their abilities, have the potential to thrive when supported by caring and knowledgeable families and communities

This resource list is a living document. Please feel free to email us (mikeellis009@icloud.com) with information regarding any service or medical providers in the San Joaquin Valley from Madera County to Kings County that have been beneficial to you. We are not vouching for quality or availability of services at the organizations listed and you should perform your own due diligence. Check with your doctor before starting any new therapy or medications.

Thank you, the Ellis family.
